Ophthalmology Experts

Clients developing ophthalmic products may seek out niche CROs who boast high levels of therapeutic area experience. However, those niche partners are not often able to offer a full range of in-house services, such as biometrics, safety, regulatory, medical writing or technology applications. Also, those niche CROs typically do not offer an international footprint and global capability or the reassurance of nearly 25 years of experience.

CROMSOURCE is your ideal partner. We combine high levels of therapeutic experience typically found in niche CROs, with the geographic coverage and service scope found in a global partner. We add our best-in-class quality standards, industry leading metrics for on-time, on-budget project delivery, and a commitment to share our clients' goals.

Broad Therapeutic Experience

CROMSOURCE has managed dozens of ophthalmic projects. Notable indications we have experience in include, but are not limited to:

- | | |

Our Expertise Ensures Your Success

CROMSOURCE has a wealth of specialist experience in the development of medical devices and medicinal products in ophthalmology. However, past experience alone is not enough to ensure successful development and completion of your project. To do this, CROMSOURCE understands the importance of retaining our expert people and ensuring our clients receive a stable, experienced project team throughout the duration of their study.

What this means for your project is:

- Project teams have a complete understanding of the patient population, the operational challenges associated with recruiting and retaining subjects and the strategies required to conduct these studies in a timely manner.
- Staff become part of your team, sharing their considerable experience and expertise of data management, statistics, medical writing, safety and regulatory in ophthalmology product development.
- CRAs are experienced in ophthalmology endpoints and data. This understanding ensures that monitoring is detailed, this understanding ensures that monitoring is detailed, that sites are managed effectively and quality data is delivered.
